

Goose Creek, South Carolina

Dora Lee Driggers Smith, 73, of Goose Creek, S.C., a retired personnel assistant at the Charleston Naval Weapons Station, died Thursday, 05 August 2004, in a North Charleston hospital. The funeral will be 4 p.m., Saturday afternoon, August 7, 2004, in the Midway Baptist Church, Goose Creek. Interment will follow in Berkeley Memorial Gardens. Friends may call at DIAL-MURRAY FUNERAL HOME, MONCKS CORNER, from 6 until 8 p.m., this Friday evening. Mrs. Smith was born May 20, 1931, in Moncks Corner, S.C., a daughter of Stephen DeVoe Driggers and Alice Burbage Driggers. She was a member of the Midway Baptist Church and a graduate of Berkeley High School. A sister, Barbara Escritt and two brothers, Harold Driggers and Matthew Driggers, preceded her in death. Surviving are: a daughter, Donna Sue Martin-Murphy and her husband, John, of Fayetteville, Ga.; a son, Stephen G. Smith of Ladson; four sisters, Annie Rumph of Charleston, Betty Hall of Moncks Corner, Sylvia Dolecki of Lone Rock, Wisconsin, and Laverne Rajterowski of Mobile, Alabama; a brother, Roger Driggers of Bermuda; three grandchildren; and a great-grandchild, Sara R. Martin.